ED DIVINES SUNDAY DISCOURSE.

A Word With Women."

The text was the following letter received by Dr. Talmace:
"Reverend Sir.—You delivered a discourse in answer to a letter from six young men of Fayette, O., requesting you to preach a sermon on 'Advice to Toung Men.' Are we instruct field in asking you to preach a sermon on 'Advice to Toung Women?
"Larran Signad at Six Young Women."

Christ, who took His text from a flock of birds flying overhead, saying, "Behold the fewls of the sir," and from the flowers in the valley, saying, "Consider the Illies of the field," and from the clucking of a barnyard fewl, saying, "As a hen gathered her chickens under her wing," and from a crystal of salt pleked up by the roadside, saying, "Salt is good," will grant us a blessing if, instead of taking a text from the Bible, I take for my ser this letter from Cincinnati, which is only see of many letters which I have received rom young women in New York, New n young women in New York, New sans, San Francisco, London, Edinburgh and from the ends of the earth, all implying that, having some months ago preached the sermon on "Advice to Toung Men," I could not, without neglect of duty, refuse to preach a sermon on "Advice to Young Wo-

It is the more important that the pulpit be heard on this subject at this time when we are having such an illimitable discussion about what is called the new woman, as though some new creature of God had arrived on earth or were about to arrive. One theory is that she will be an athleta and rived on earth or were about to arrive. One theory is that she will be an athlete, and boxing glove and football and puglistic encounter will characterize her. Another theory is that she will superintend ballot boxes, sit in Congressional hall and, through improved politics, bring the millentum by the evil she will extirpate and the good she will install. Another theory is that she will adopt masculine attire and make sacred a valgarianism positively borrific. Another theory is that she will be so esthetic that broom handle and rolling pin and coal scuttle will be pictorialized with tints from soft skies or suggestions of Bembrandt and Banbael.

Heaven deliver the church and the world She will never some. I have so much faith in the evangelistic triumph and in the pro-gress of all things in the right direction that I prophesy that style of new woman will never arrive. She would hand over this world to diabolism, and from being, as she is now, the mightiest agency for the world's uplifting, she would be the mightiest force

I will tell you who the new woman will be. It will be the good woman of all the ages past. Here and there a difference of attire, as the temporary custom may com-mand, but the same good, honest, lovely, Christian, all influential being that your mother and mine was. Of that kind of wo-ive been known a long time back, but lare been popularized in our day—tennis, eroquet and golf and the teenth century to give the speed which we see whirling through all our cities and along the country roads, and with that speed comes health. The woman of the next decade will be healthier than at any time since the world was created, while the invalidism which has so often characterized womanhood will pass over to manhood, which by its posture on the wheel is coming to curved spine and cramped chest and a deformity for which another lifty years will not have power to make rescue. Young man, ait up er to make rescue. Young man, sit up straight when you ride. Darwin says the human race is descended

Darwin says the human race is descended from the monkey, but the bicycle will turn a hundred thousand men of the present generation in physical condition from man to monkey. For good womanhood, I thank God that this mede of recreation has been invented. Use it wisely, modestly, Christianly. No good woman needs to be told what attire is proper and what behavior is right. If anything be doubtful, reject it. A hovdenish hoisterons, masquing woman is hoydenish, boisterous, masculine woman is the detestation of all, and every revolution of the wheel she rides is toward depreciation of the wheel she rides is toward applicable, O and downfall. Take care of your health, O woman; of your nerves in not reading the trash which makes up ninety-nine out of 100 novels, or by eating too many cornucoplas of confectionery! Take care of your eyes by not reading at hours when you ought to be sleeping. Take care of your ears by stop-ping them against the tides of gossip that surge through every neighborhood.

Health! Only those know its value who have lost it. The earth is girdled with pain, and a vast proportion of it is the price paid for early recklessness. I close this thought with the salutation in Macbeth:

Now good digestion wait on appetito And health on both.

Advice the third: Appreciate your mother while you have her. It is the almost universal testimony of young women who have lost mother that they did not realize what she was to them until after her exit from this life. Indeed mother is in the appreciation of many a young lady a hindrance. The maternal inspection is often considered an obstacle. Mother has so many notions about that which is proper and that which is im-proper. It is astounding how much more many girls know at eighteen than their mothers at forty-five. With what an elaberate argument, perhaps spiced with some temper, the youngling tries to reverse the opinion of the oldling. The sprinkle of gray on the maternal forehead is rather an indication to the recent graduate of the female eminary that the circumstances of to-day or to-night are not fully appreciated. What a wise boarding school that would beif the mothers were the pupils and the daughters the teachers! How well the teens could chaperon the fifties! Then mothers do not amount to much anyhow. They are in the way and are always asking questions about postage marks of letters, and asking, "Who is that Mary D.?" and "Where did you form that acquaintance, Flora?" and "Where did you get that ring, Myra?" For mothers have such unprecedented means of knowing everything-they say "it was a bird in the that told them. Alas, for that bird in the air! Will not some one lift his gun and shoot it? It would take whole libraries to hold the wisdom which the daughter knows. more than, her mother. "Why cannot I have this?" "Why cannot I do that?" And man was Christian Eddy, who, talking to a man who was so much of an unbeliever he had named his two children Voltaire and Tam Paine, nevertheless saw him converted, he breaking down with emotion as he said to her, "I cannot stand you, you talk like my mother." And telling the story of his

Queen Victoria, who, when her children, the princes and princesses, came out of the schoolroom after the morning lesson had It always seemed strange and been given up by their governess and told that our human race should be how her voice had trembled in the morning interest that our human race should be low of locomotion, when creatures of importance have powers of velocity, of bird or foot of antelope, leaving ar behind, and while it seems so important while gift." And the queen clasped on the girl's mourning bracelet with a lock of her wrist a mourning bracelet with a lock of her mother's hair. All you young women the world around who mourn a like sorrow, and sometimes in your ionoliness and sorrow and loss burst out crying, "Mother! Mother!" put on your wrist this golden clasp of divine sympathy, "As one whom his mother com-forteth so will I comfort you."

Advice the fourth: Allow no time to pass without brightening some one's life. Within five minutes' walk of you there is some one in a trazedy compared with which Shakein a tragedy exampared with which Shake-speare's "King Lear" or Victor Hugo's "Jean Valjean" has no power. Go out and brighten somebody's life with a cheering word or smile or a flower. Take a good ook and read a chapter to that blind man, Go up that dark alley and make that invalid woman laugh with some good story. Go to that house from which that child has een taken by death and tell the father mother what an escape the child has had from the winter of earth into the springtime of neaven. For God'ssake make some one happy for ten minutes if for no longer a time. young woman bound on such a missionwhat might she not accomplish. Oh, there are thousands of these manufacturers of sunshine. They are "King's Daughters" whether inside or outside that delightful organization. They do more good before they are twenty years of age than selfish women who live ninety, and they are so happy just because they make others happy. Compare such a young women who feels she has such a mission with one who lives a round of vanities, cardcase in hand, calling on people for whom she does not care except for some social advantage, and insufferably bored when the call is returned, and trying to look young after she is old, and living a life of insincerity and hollowness and dramatization and sham Young woman, live to make others happy. and you will be happy. Live for yourself, and you will be miserable. There never has been an exception to the rule; there never will be an exception.

I have noticed on many of the railroads that the porter will go around and light the lamps while it is broad day light, and I am at first surprised, but I afterward find that we are about to enter a tunnel, and its darkness is thus illuminated. Oh, kindle a light for those who are plunging into financial or domestic or spiritual midnight.

Advice the fifth: Plan out your life on a big scale, whether you are a farmer's daughter, or a shepherdess among the hills, or the flattered pet of a drawing room filled with statuary and pictures and bric-a-brac. Stop where you are and make a plan for your life-You cannot be satisfied with a life of frivolity and giggle and indirection. Trust the world, and it will cheat you if it does not destroy you. The Redoubtable was the name of an enemy's ship that Lord Nelson spared twice from demolition, but that same ship afterwards sent the ball that killed him, and the world on which you smile may aim at you the deadliest weapon. Be a God's woman. This moment make as mighty a change as did a college student of England. He had neglected his studies, rioting at night with dissipated companions and sleeping in the classroom when he ought to have been listening. A fellow student came into his room one morning before the young man I am speaking of had arisen from his pillow and said to him: "Paley, you are a fool! You are wasting your opportunities. Do not throw away your life." Paley said: "I was so struck with what he said that I lay in bed until I had formed my plan for life. I ordered my fire to be always laid over night. loted to each portion of the day its proper branch of study and became the senior wrangler." What an hour that was when a resolution definitely placed changed a young man from a reckless and time wasting student to a consecrated man who stopped not until all time and all eternity shall be debtor to his pen and influence!

Young woman, draw out and decide what you will be and do, God helping. Write it out in a plain hand, not like the letters which Josephine received from Napoleon in Italy, the writing so scrawling and scattered that it was sometimes taken as a map of the seat of war. Put the plan on the wall of your room, or write it in the opening of a blank book, or put it where you will be compelled often to see it. A thousand questions of your coming life you cannot settle now, but there is one question you can settle independent of man, woman, angel and devil, and that is that you will be God's woman now, henceforth and forever. Clasp hands with the Almighty. Pythogoras represented life by the letter Y, because it early divides into two ways. Look out for opportunities of cheering, inspiring, rescuing and saving all the people you can. Make a league with the eternities. I seek your present and everlasting safety. David Brewster said that a comet belonging to our system called Lexell's comet is lost, as it ought to have appeared thirteen times and has not appeared at all. Alas, it is not only the lost comets, but the lost stars, and what were considered fixed stars. Some of the most brilliant and steady souls have disappeared. The world wonders at the charge of the Light Brigade, immortalized by Tennyson. Only a few of the 600 got back from the charge, under Lord Cardigan, of the Muscovite guus, and all the havor was done in twenty-five minutes, the charge beginning at ten minutes past 11 o'clock, and closing at thirty-five minutes past 11, and yet nothing left on the field but dying and dead men, dying and dead horses. But a smaller proportion of the men and women who go into the battle of life come out unwounded. The slaughter has been and will be terrific, and we all need God and we need Him now and we need Him all the time. And let me say there is a new woman, as there is a new man, and that is the regenerated woman made such by the ransacking, transforming, upbuilding, traumphant power of the spirit who is so superior to all other spirits that He has been called for ages the Holy Spirit. Quicker than wheel ever turned on its axis; quicker than fleetest hoof ever struck the pavement quicker than zigzag lightning ever dropped down the sky, the ransoming power I speak of will revolutionize your entire nature. Then you can start out on a voyage of life, defying both calm and cyclone, saying with Dean Alford:

One who has known in storms to sail I have on board; Above the roaring of the gale I hear my Lord.

He holds me when the billows smile; I shall not fall; If short 'tis sharp, if long 'tis light; He tempers all.

Cuban Insurgents Pay Tribute to Their Prisoners' Valor.

In that encounter sixty-four Spanish soldiers had made a gallant stand against 1200 insurgents. The soldiers were commanded by Colonel Valle, Major Sanchez and Captains Navarro and Río, who were among those captured and released by Rego, the insurgent leader. The latter was the first to greet the Spanish officers, and, embracing Colonel Valle, he said: "Return to your comrades, heroes. You are an honor to the Spanish Nation, and I am proud to be able to boast of descending from such people." teen Spanish soldiers who were captured by

REMARKABLE AND ASSOCIATING OURS OF AN EXTREME CASE OF ST. VITUS DANCE.

How a Young Lady Regulated the Use of Her Arms, Limbs and Speech in Three Weeks.

From the Standard Union, Brooklyn, N. T. Too much hard study at school brought on St. Vitus' dance. Such was the common ex-perience of Miss Glendors Rivers, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Rivers, of 69 Ryerson street, Brooklyn. The disease grew worse every month, until the young lady's entire right side became paralyzed; but, naw that a marvelous and permanent cure has been wrought, it will be interesting to read her own version of the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"For more than a year," said Miss Rivers, "doctors attended me without effecting the slightest change in my condition. If anything, I grew worse under their treatment, until February of this year, when my condition became critical.

"I had lost the complete use of my arms and limbs and speech. I could only swallow liquids, and these only as they fed me with a spoon, when they could get my mouth open. I wanted to sleep all the time. The stupor I laid in was something like a trance, and no doubt I would have died if they had not waked me up at intervals.

"The first week in March my mother, who is a sick nurse, was advised by a neighbor to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in my case. She got some of the pills—a box from Neilson's drug store, at the corner of Myrtie avenue and Hall street. Before I had taken one-half the contents of the box a remarkable change was noticed in my condition.

"Gradually I regained the use of my arms and linbs and speech, and by the time the pills were gone I was up and about the house almost well. But my mother thought it wise to get another box of the pills, and this she did, and here you see me stand before you with more strength and more ambition than I ever had.

fore you with more strength and more ambition than I ever had.

"Some of our near neighbors attribute my regained body and health to some miraculous or supernatural agency; but my mother and most intimate friends know that the cure was effected by Dr. Williams' Pink "Three weeks from the day I swallowed the first dose of the pills I was as well as you
